

Time To Go Again

Dedicated to Laurie Kearsley

Deanne & Kerry Casperson

m.m. = 76

mp

1. Her lit-tle suit-case holds all her belong-ings— An - oth - er good bye— like so ma - ny times—

4

6

mf

be-fore. She steps in - side the car, one more back-ward glance. No more 9

wast-ed tears the same old scene, had to grow up way_ to fast. mp And it's time to 8va -----

12

go a-gain_____

2. She don't know where the la-dy's gon-na
 (3. She) longs to share__ se-crets with a

mp

15

take her_ Is this the way a grown-up world pro- tects her?_ As the sis ter_ To have a fa- ther walk her down the aisle_____ And

mf

18

mile__ posts pass by, a tear burns in her eye, Where does how she longs to be in some-one's fam'-ly tree but in her

mf

20

she be - long, tries to un - der stand as she gaz - es out the win - dow few short years she's sad - ly found it was - n't meant to be 8va --

22

mp Time to go a gain Will she But it's time to go a gain

f mp f

25

ev - er go home? Will this road take her to just one more stop, a place where she be mf longs. To a diff - rent place and time found on - ly in her dreams to the

28

mf

31

1.

same old' bed, the same old friends and a fam'-ly of her own.

33

mp

But it's time to go a again. 3. She 36

2. f

fam'-ly of her own. Will she ev - er go home? How her 38

mf

heart aches to know a moth-er's arms safe and warm where the

mf

40

mp

lit-tle suit - case stays, a moth-er's arms_ safe and warm where the

mp

42

lit-tle suit - case stays. But it's time_ to go a again_ p

45

Time_ to go a-gain_

guz